PRESIDENT URGES WAR ON AUSTRIA

Annual Message Declares
German Domination Must Be Ended for All Time.

TERMS OF ONLY PEACE AMERICA WILL EVER MAKE

Mast Not Only Deliver the People and the Lands of Belgium and Northern France From Prussian Conquest, but Also Must Deliver the Peoples of Austria-Hungary, the Balkans and Turkey From Prussian Military and Commercial Autocracy.

Washington, Dec. 4.—President Wilson today addressed to the world America's renewed pledge to the cause of democracy. Appearing before a joint session of the House and Senate, the President delivered the message which will set in motion the legislative wheels of the Sixty-fifth Congress, whose task it is to aid the country's military forces toward victory.

Not since the President called upon Congress for a declaration of war on Germany has he appeared under more dramatic circumstances. From the allied diplomats in the gallery to the khaki clad American soldiers, to the French in their horizon blue, the British in their war regalia and to the women spectators in the galleries there was a touch of war.

Vast throngs clamored for entrance to the Capitol. Only those bearing cards were admitted. But the galleries were filled long before the time for the President's appearance, and the women spent their time knitting for the men "over there" who were waging the fight against Hohenzollernism.

As the President began speaking, his message was released for publication. Following is the President's message:

Gentlemen of the Congress: Eight months have elapsed since I had the honor of addressing you. They have been months crowded with events of immense and grave significance for us. I shall not undertake to detail or even to summarize these events. The particulars of the part we have played in them will be laid before you in the reports of the executive departments.

I shall discuss only our present outlook upon these vast affairs, our present duties and the immediate means of accomplishing the objects we shall hold always in view.

I shall not go back to debate the causes of the war. The intolerable wrongs done and planned against us by the sinister masters of Germany have long since become too grossly obvious and odious to every true American to need to be rehearsed. But I shall ask you to consider again and with a very grave scrutiny our objectives and the measures by which we mean to attain them for the purpose of discussion here in this place in action, and our action must move straight toward definite ends. Our object is, of course, to win the war and we shall not slacken or suffer ourselves to be diverted until it is won. But it is worth while asking and answering the question, When shall we consider the war won?

United in Spirit and Intention.

From one point of view it is not necessary to broach this fundamental matter. I do not doubt that the American people know what the war is about and what sort of an outcome they will regard as a realization of their purpose in it.

As a nation we are united in spirit and intention. I pay little heed to those who tell me otherwise. I hear the voices of dissent. Who does not?

I bear the criticism and the clamor of the noisily thoughtless and trouble some. I also see men here and there fling themselves in impotent disloyalty against the calm, indomitable power of the nation. I hear men debate peace who understand neither its nature nor the way in which we may attain it with uplifted eyes and unboken spirits. But I know that none of these speak for the nation. They do not touch the heart of anything. They may safely be left to strum their untaught harps and be forgotten.

But from another point of view I believe that it is necessary to say plainly what we here at the seat of action consider the war to be for, and what part we mean to play in the settlement of its searching issues. We are the spokesmen of the American people, and they have a right to know whether their purpose is ours.

Desire Defeat of Sinister Forces.

They desire peace by the overcom ing of evil, by the defeat once for all of the sinister forces that interrupt peace and render it impossible, and they wish to know how closely our thought runs with theirs and what action we propose. They are impatient with those who desire peace by any sort of compromise—deeply and indignantly impatient—but they will be equally impatient with us if we do not make it plain to them what our objectives are and what we are planning for in seeking to make conquest of peace by arms.

I believe that I speak for them when I say two things:

First, that this intolerable thing of which the masters of Germany have shown us the ugly face, this menace of combined intrigue and force which we now see so clearly as the German power, a thing without conscience or honor or capacity for covenanted peace, must be crushed and if it be not utterly brought to an end at least shut out from the friendly intercourse of the nations, and second, that when this thing and its power are indeed defeated and the time comes that we can discuss peace, when the German people have spokesmen whose word we can believe and when those spokesmen are ready in the name of their people to accept the common judgment of the nations as to what shall henceforth be the bases of law and of covenant for the life of the world we shall be willing and glad to pay the full price for peace and pay it ungrudgingly.

Wants No Vindictive End.

We know what that price will be. It will be full impartial justice—justice done at every point and to every nation that the final settlement must affect our enemies as well as our friends.

You catch, with me, the voices of humanity that are in the air. They grow daily more audible, more articulate, more persuasive and they come from the hearts of men everywhere. They insist that the war shall not end in vindictive action of any kind; that no nation or people shall be robbed or punished because the irresponsible rulers of a single country, have incurred such deep and abominable wrong.

It is this that has been expressed in the media, "no annexations, no contributions, no punitive indemnities." Just because this crude formula expresses the instinctive judgment as to right of plain men everywhere it has been made diligent use of by the masters of German intrigue to lead the people of Russia astray and the people of every other country their agents could reach in order that a premature peace might be brought about before autocracy has been taught its final and convincing lesson and the people of the world put in control of their own destinies.

But the fact that a wrong has been made of a just idea is no reason why a right use should not be made of it. It ought to be brought under the patronage of its real friends.

Show Autocracy Its Futility.

Let it be said again that autocracy must first be shown the utter futility of its claims to "power or leadership in the modern world." It is impossible to apply any standard of justice so long as such forces are unchecked and undefeated as the present masters of Germany command. Not until that has been done can right be set up as arbiter and peacemaker among the nations.

But when that has been done, as God willing, it assuredly will be, we shall at least be free to do an unprecedented thing, and this is the time to avow our purpose to do it. We shall be free to base peace on generosity and justice, to the exclusion of all selfish claims to advantage, even on the part of the victors.

Let there be no misunderstanding. Our present and immediate task is to win the war and nothing shall turn us aside from it until it is accomplished. Every power and resource we possess, whether of men, of money or of materials, is being devoted and will continue to be devoted to that purpose until it is achieved. Those who desire to bring peace about before that purpose is achieved I counsel to carry their advice elsewhere. We will not entertain it.

We shall regard the war as won only when the German people say to us, through properly accredited representatives, that they are ready to agree to a settlement based upon justice and the reparation of the wrongs their rulers have done. They have done a wrong to Belgium which must be repaired. They have established a power over other lands and peoples than their own—over the great empire of Austria-Hungary, over hitherto free Balkan states, over Turkey and within Asia—which must be re gained by skill, by industry, by knowledge, by enterprise, but above all we did not grudge or oppose, but admired rather. She had built up for herself a real empire of trade and influence, secured by the peace of the world. We were content to abide the rivalries of manufacture, science and commerce that were involved for us in her success and stand or fall, as we had or did not have the brains and the initiative to surpass her.

Desire Defeat of Sinister Forces. They desire peace by the overcom ing of evil, by the defeat once for all of the sinister forces that interrupt peace and render it impossible, and they wish to know how closely our

LAST OF PROMINENT FAMILY

WILLIAM SPANGLER VETERAN AND BATTLEFIELD GUIDE.

Dr. William Gerhardt, of Martinsburg, W. Va., Passes Away in the 101st Year of His Age.

William Spangler, the last of a large family, died on Tuesday at the home of his niece, Miss Sadie Hoffman, on York street, at the age of 78 years, 11 months and 10 days. He had been in failing health for some time. His niece hearing a noise went to his room to find he had fallen to the floor and expired from heart disease. He was one of the eleven children of Abraham and Elizabeth Spangler and was born in Cumberland township, living many years on the well known Spangler farm south of town. This family gave the name to Spangler's Springs, south of Culp's Hill. He was a veteran of the Civil War, serving as a sergeant in Co. E, 105th Regt., Pa. Vol. Inf., and participated in engagements at Suffolk, Jamestown, Road, Beaver's Dam, Carsville and Deserted House. He was a member of Corral Shell Post No. 9, G. A. R. He was one of the oldest members of Gettysburg Lodge of Odd Fellows No. 124 for twenty-three years. He had been a guard in the Gettysburg National Park, being located at Spangler's Spring. He conducted a grocery store on Chambersburg street many years ago and later was employed at the Reading Freight Depot. He enjoyed the respect of this community in an unusual degree. He was most courteous and polite. He had an ease and kindness that won friends. They insist that the war shall not end in vindictive action of any kind; that no nation or people shall be robbed or punished because the irresponsible rulers of a single country, have incurred such deep and abominable wrong.

OFF FAT IF YOU GET
MORE FRESH AIR

Be Moderate in Your Diet and Reduce Your Weight with Tassco.

Lack of fresh air weakens the oxygen-carrying power of the blood, the liver becomes sluggish, fat accumulates and the action of many of the vital organs are hindered thereby. The heart action becomes weak, work is an effort and the beauty of the figure is destroyed.

Fat put on by indoor life is unhealthy and if nature is not assisted in throwing it off by increasing the oxygen-carrying power of the blood, a serious case of obesity may result.

When you feel that you are getting too stout, take the matter in hand at once. Don't wait until your figure has become a joke and your health ruined through carrying around a burden of unsightly and unhealthy fat.

Spent as much time as you possibly can in the open air; breathe deeply, and get from the People's Drug Store a box of Tassco, take a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast then take tassco after each meal and at bedtime.

Weigh yourself every few days and keep up the treatment until you are down to normal. Tassco is absolutely harmless, is pleasant to take, helps the digestion and is designed to increase the oxygen-carrying power of the blood.

Even a few days' treatment should show a noticeable reduction in weight. There is nothing better for obesity.

Rates Mean Waste and this is no time for Waste
Concrete Buildings Are Rat Proof

Every year millions of dollars are lost on the farms because of that most destructive of all pests—the brown rat.

Don't let the rats continue to fatten on your grain in the face of the present world wide need and fabulous prices.

To keep rats out you must build them out by a liberal use of concrete.

If you are considering building a dwelling, barn, granary, warehouse, elevator or factory, make it fire proof, rat proof and everlasting by building with concrete.

Building with concrete isn't difficult, when using SECURITY PORTLAND CEMENT.

We will gladly send directions that you can easily follow successfully.

They are free. Write for them.

AMERICAN MANNERS OF TODAY

Prevailing Bearing in Thoroughfares and Street Cars Indicates That Courtesy Is on the Decline.

As for manners, we are kindhearted as a people and civil when appealed to, but no one would suspect it if our bearing in thoroughfares and street cars be a criterion. The spirit of the age is first come, first served; to be waived only in favor of the crippled and the positively infirm. Courtesy in the old-fashioned sense—the deference of the young for the seniors, of the stronger for the weaker sex, of the vigorous for the frail—if not extinct is so sporadic as to be noticeable when manifested. Robert Grant writes in the Yale Review. The young men who push their way forward in public conveyances retain without compunction the seats for which they have struggled.

Here again we have the philosophy of the tired business man: "I got there first; we are all equals in the United States, and I want to read my newspaper." The apotheosis of naturalness, and in self-defense we all more or less subscribe to it; but after all, it is natural for pigs to struggle for places at a trough. Well may we ask ourselves if it is impossible to safeguard independence, initiative and equality except at the cost of all the social graces that prevailed when society was more artificial.

NEEDFUL KNOWLEDGE

Gettysburg People Should Learn to Detect the Approach of Kidney Disease.

The symptoms of kidney trouble are many. Disordered kidneys often excrete a thick, cloudy, offensive urine, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding. The back may ache, headaches and dizzy spells may occur and the victim is often weighted down by a feeling of languor and fatigue. Neglect these warnings and there is danger. Delay often proves fatal.

You can use no better endorsed kidney remedy than Dean's Kidney Pills. Here's Gettysburg proof of their merit.

W. N. Flaherty, retired farmer, 311 Washington St., says: "Dean's Kidney Pills have been of great benefit to me and I willingly recommend them. ## The Lure of Moca

By Osborn Jones

(Copyright, 1917, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Among the students—and the faculty, too, for that matter—Professor Gray had the reputation of being the best-looking professor at Morton and the most confirmed old bachelor. On the score of his old-bachelorhood—though he was not past redemption at forty—they excused various little quirks and quirks in his disposition. Not only was Professor Gray the head of the Greek department of the college but, as son of one of the leading benefactors of the college, he was one of the trustees as well. It was as a trustee that he opposed general principles to domestic science and household arts, as part of a college curriculum.

He did, however, give up successfully blocked the building of the new domestic science extension. The money had been raised for the building, but because the site was part of the original Gray bequest, Professor Gray's objection made progress on the building impossible.

No wonder, then, that Jean Prescott, the attractive young head of such household arts department as there was at Morton, was filled with sentiment toward Professor Gray that was as near to that of hatred as any that had ever entered into her spacious heart.

Like most household arts instructors, Jean Prescott carried

MAKE 2 MEATLESS DAYS A WEEK THE RULE AND HELP THE ARMY WIN, PLEADS HEINZ

Food Director of Public Safety Committee Urges House-keepers to Reduce Present Lavish Consumption as Patriotic Duty—Heavy Eating Jeopardizes Plans For Feeding Soldiers.

A request for meatless days has been issued to the nation by Herbert Hoover, and at his request Edward Heinz, Food Director of the Pennsylvania Committee of Public Safety and Federal Food Administrator of Pennsylvania, calls upon all patriotic citizens to reduce the meat consumption by adopting in every family a rule of two meatless days per week, or Friday Tuesdays and Friday, and the use of meat only once a day or other days.

Mr. Heinz says:

"Especially must we save pork and its products such as bacon, ham, etc., and it is imperative that a duty that we owe to our country and our Allies is to save bacon and freedom from the Germans."

"There is a recuperating nation and its war preparation has always been based in proportion to that of other countries where meat has been less plentiful and more restricted as a luxury.

"Today we have reached a point where we strain on our meat supply, through our own meat consumption abnormal war demands brought about a shortage so serious as to

DEFECTS IN "CANNED" SONGS

Vocalists Do Not Break Down on Top Notes and No One Shouts "Amen," Comments Countryman.

He was a plain, old-fashioned countryman "without no frills," as he often proudly boasted. He lamented the passing of the old cottage organ, ear-bobs and coal oil lamps and contended that persons in these days are not nearly as happy as those of a half century ago. The other day he came into town from his country home nearby, relates an exchange, and stopping at his son's home was entertained by his daughter-in-law with music on the phonograph. Knowing his fondness for old religious music, the daughter-in-law put on the records containing old-time hymns sung by the world's great artists of song. The old man was plainly thrilled and sat in rapt attention as he heard his old favorites sung with such sympathy and meaning as he never had heard them sung in real life. At the conclusion of what she called her "sacred concert," the young woman asked, "Well, father, weren't those old hymns sung as beautifully as you have ever heard them in the old days?"

"Emmy, they mightn't be so bad," he reluctantly conceded, "if that Madam Human Shank or whatever you call her, had only broke down on the top notes like they used to in church, most always, and somebody'd only said 'Amen' right out loud when they got through singin'!"

The Middlemen.

A farmer raised a peck of wheat beside the River Dee; a boarder ate a wheated loaf 'way down in Tennessee; the loaf the boarder fed upon cost half as much and more as did the farmer's peck of wheat a month or so before. "Now, why is this," the boarder raved. "They hold me up on bread?" "And why is wheat so bloomin' cheap?" the plodding farmer said.

A chap beyond the Rocky ridge raised 20 pounds of limes; another one in old New York was kicking on the times, for he had downed a glass of "ade" and poor forlorn galoot, had paid one-half the market price of 20 pounds of fruit. "Now, why is this, they soak me thus for this wee sip of 'ade'?" "And why," exclaimed the orchard man, "am I so poorly paid?"

Now hold your horses steady there, you man beside the Dee: go easy there, you hungry chap in sunny Tennessee; restrain yourself, you orchard man, forbear this angry talk, and you beside the soda fountain in Little Old Noo Yawk, remember this: Our food and drink, no matter where and when, must also be the food and drink of thirty middlemen.—Utica Globe.

Switzerland's Water Power.

There are no coal mines in Switzerland, but there is "white coal" or water power in abundance that can be transformed into light, heat and power. An electric railway climbs a tunnel inside the Jungfrau mountain. Halfway on the journey a good hot luncheon is served at the restaurant. In a station hollowed out from the rocks. The temperature of the tunnel in this snow-covered mountain is but little above the freezing point, even in summer, but the trains are lighted, heated and driven up the mountain, and the cooking and heating at the restaurant are all accomplished by the utilization of the icy cold water running down the mountain side as water power to generate electricity.

Few countries in the world are so well supplied with potential water power as Switzerland, and with this power fully developed she need never again see her industries at the mercy of a people who might become at any time an enemy.

TELLS ABOUT MERINO SHEEP

Writer Accounts for Thick Folds in Fleece, Not to Be Found in Other Popular Breeds.

Just about every so often I get to feeling sheepish, as it were, and have to write something to show my familiarity with those animals, says Strickland Gillian in Farm Life.

The other day I saw my wife cooking a leg of lamb. Now and then she would open the door of the oven and slip some water over the meat.

Thus I learned how, when we start to roast somebody, we may be said to be giving him a lamb-basting.

You have often heard of sheepfolds, haven't you? Well, if you want to see a sheepfold look at any merino sheep, which accounts for the way the folds show on them.

When merino sheep were made, hide was cheaper than mutton and wool was a drug on the market. So a wee bit of sheep was wrapped in several sheepskins, necessitating a lot of over-lays. It seems easier to shear a sheep than to shear one.

There is an old rhyme which speaks of the "folded flock." Those must have been merinos. It is some nifty stunt to de-wool a merino and leave on more of the hide than of the wool. It is the only accordion pleated sheep in the solar system. If merinos had been washed in green persimmon juice all their lives they couldn't have been buckled over.

Evidently their mammas didn't use that kind of soap.

The Southdown, Oxforddown, Shropshire-down, etc., are sheep with clean dresses and dirty hands and faces.

The only sheep that wear bustles are the fat rimmed sheep now being raised at the state college at Brookings, S. D. They carry a trailer, something like a locomotive, only there isn't a tender behind, except for eating purposes.

GOLDFISH MARKET OF JAPAN

Koriyama and Tokyo Are Leading Centers of Industry From Which Good Returns Are Gained.

Koriyama is known throughout Japan as the great gold-fish market, the city of Tokyo ranking next in importance, says a correspondent.

Tam, an intrepid Scotchman, was told that the man he had brought down the day before was a well-known German aviator named Von Zeppelin, and on behalf of the Royal Flying corps Tam was selected to take a wreath to those who expose their lives for the country.

PRESIDENT WILSON'S SPEECH

ought to be done for the more effective conduct of the war your own counsels will supply the omission. What I am perfectly clear about is that in the present session of the Congress our whole attention and energy should be concentrated on the vigorous, rapid and successful prosecution of the great task of winning the war.

Striking at Our Very Existence.

We can do this with all the greater zeal and enthusiasm because we know that for us this is a war of high principle, debased by no selfish ambition of conquest or spoliation; because we know, and all the world knows, that we have been forced into it to save the very institutions we live under from corruption and destruction. The purposes of the Central Powers strike straight at the very heart of everything we believe in; their methods of warfare outrage every principle of humanity and of knightly honor; their intrigue has corrupted the very thought and spirit of many of our people; their sinister and secret diplomacy has sought to take over our very territory away from us and disrupt the union of the states. Our safety would be at an end, our honor forever sullied and brought into contempt were we to permit their triumph. They are striking at the very existence of democracy and liberty.

It is because it is for us a war of high, disinterested purpose, in which all the free peoples of the world are banded together for the vindication of right, a war for the preservation of our nation, of all that it has held dear of principle and of purpose, that we feel ourselves doubly constrained to propose for its outcome only that which is righteous and of irreproachable intention, for our foes as well as for our friends. The cause being just and holy, the settlement must be of like motive and equality. For this we can fight, but for nothing less noble or less worthy of our traditions. For this cause we entered the war, and for this cause we will battle until the last gun is fired.

Time to Speak Plainly.

I have spoken plainly because this seems to me the time when it is most necessary to speak plainly in order that all the world may know that even in the heat and arduous ardor of the struggle and when our whole thought is of carrying the war through to its end we have not forgotten any ideal or principle for which the name of America has been held in honor among the nations and for which it has been our glory to contend in the great generation that went before us. A supreme moment of history has come. The eyes of the people have been opened, and they see. The hand of God is laid upon the nations. He will show them favor, I devoutly believe, only if they rise to the clear heights of his own justice and mercy.

CHRIST LUTHERAN CHURCH

Reopened Last Sunday After Extensive Repairs.

Christ Lutheran Church, more frequently called College Church, was reopened last Sunday after undergoing extensive repairs and improvements for a period of several months and at a cost of nearly $5000. This old church with fine colonial front was built over 80 years ago, in 1835. It was repaired in 1863, enlarged in 1876, improved in 1897, and repaired in 1917.

The church auditorium has been tastefully frescoed and tinted, and with new stained glass memorial windows, new green carpet, makes a most pleasing audience chamber. The frescoing and windows was the work of H. B. Hankinson. There was also added the highly satisfactory indirect lighting system, a new steam plant, inside stairway connecting Sunday School with Church proper and other improvements.

Rev. A. E. Wagner, pastor of the church, submitted a financial statement of the repairs, the items of expense being heating plant, $1000; decorating of auditorium, $850; lighting fixtures, $160; carpet, $466.41; windows, $1400; art glass for ceiling, $50; doors, $110; connecting stair way, $90.82; painting of exterior (yet to be done), $110, and a number of smaller items bringing the total to $4855.94. The receipts were as follows:

Balance on parsonage fund.	$ 112.19
William Grecht gift	517.50
Cash on subscriptions	844.83
Unpaid subscriptions	855.17
Cash contributions for windows	912.67
Unpaid subscriptions for windows	487.33
For hymn boards	60.00
Total	$3799.69

This left $1056.25 unprovided for. The offering at services on Sunday with no solicitation amounted to $344.76.

The addresses at the morning service were by Dr. W. A. Granville, president of college, and Dr. J. A. Singmaster, president of Seminary, and in the evening by Dr. H. C. Alteman, of Seminary faculty. A feature of the service was the musical program.

There are fourteen new memorial windows and two vestibule windows, and were donated as follows:

Brodeck to Push Lincoln Way.

Congressman Brodeck states that he expects to take up at once the bill he introduced during the extra session providing for the designation of the Lincoln Highway from coast to coast as a post road. The congressman introduced his bill May 25, last, and at that time stated that he believed it was necessary for the government to make provisions for means of transportation other than by rail from the fact that there was likely to become a congestion of freight on the railroad lines. Mr. Brodeck calls attention to the fact that this congestion in railways now exists and that immediate steps must be taken to relieve this, and in his opinion it will be accomplished through the government taking over some main highways for military purposes. He believes that by doing this, army truck train roads from the South and West could be soon established for the movement of war supplies to the seaboard.

The production of motor trucks is now being considered by the government, most of them to be used to train work, but it may be several months before the new system could be put under full operation.

The congressman states further that, in his opinion, motor truck transportation for industrial commodities, as well as war supplies, will within the next six months be an absolute necessity as an auxiliary to the present rail and water systems.

In Mr. Brodeck's bill providing for the designation of the Lincoln Highway as a post road, the passage of the bill would carry with it the granting of appropriations from the national government to the several states, which appropriations could be used for the maintenance of such roads and would do away with toll roads entirely on the Lincoln Highway and such other highways as may be designated.

Law of the Family.

No man lives for himself alone. Whether we will or not, we are dependent on the exertions of others and others are affected by our good or evil acts, says Parris T. Farwell in the Congregationalist. We belong to a family, a town, a state, a nation, to the great family of mankind. Absolute liberty is not possible even for the members of a family except as the liberty is guided by good will. If in a home each member considered himself alone, disregarding the wishes and welfare of others, the result would be destruction. That is the best society in which the law of the family is applied on the largest scale. The Golden Rule is the only law by which ideal society can be obtained. "We are members one of another."

Useful Parrot.

Uncaged and unattended, a parrot perches throughout the day on a chair outside of a store in Seattle, Wash., and advertises the wares to be purchased therein to all passersby. During the summer time he is particularly useful, his owner having taught him to make this announcement: "Ice cream cones—five cents. Right inside." The appearance of a pedestrian in the vicinity of the store is a signal for the bird to repeat his announcement. The parrot has proven a great advertising card and has greatly boosted the business of the store to the advantage of the owner.

Threw Over Her Peace Triumphs.

But at the moment when she had conspicuously won her triumphs of peace she threw them away, to establish in their stead what the world will no longer permit to be established—military and political domination by arms; by which to overrule where she could not excel the rivals she most feared and hated. The peace we make must rest very deeply that wrong. It must deliver the once fair lands and happy peoples of Belgium and northern France from the Prussian conquest and the Prussian menace but it must also deliver the peoples of Austria-Hungary, the peoples of the Balkans and the peoples of Turkey, alike in Europe and Asia, from the impudent and alien dominion of Prussian military and commercial autocracy.

We owe it, however, to ourselves to say that we do not wish in any way to impinge or to rearrange the Austro-Hungarian empire. It is no affair of ours what they do with their own life, either industrially or politically. We do not purpose or desire to dictate to them in any way. We only desire to see that their affairs are left in their own hands in all matters, great or small. We shall hope to secure for the peoples of the Balkan peninsula and for the people of the Turkish empire the right and opportunity to make their own lives safe, their own fortunes secure against oppression or injustice and from the dictation of foreign courts or parties.

And our attitude and purpose with regard to Germany herself are of a like kind. We intend no wrong against the German empire, no interference with her internal affairs. We should seem either the one or the other absolutely unjustifiable, absolutely contrary to the principles we have professed to live by and to hold most sacred throughout our life as a nation.

The people of Germany are being held by the men whom they now permit to deceive them and to act as their masters that they are fighting for the very life and existence of their empire a war of desperate self-defense against deliberate aggression. Nothing could be more grossly or wantonly false, and we must seek by the utmost openness and candor as to our real aims to convince them of its falseness. We are, in fact, fighting for their emancipation from fear, along with our own—from the fear as well as the fact of unjust attack by neighbors or rivals or schemers after world empire. No one is threatening the existence or the independence of the peaceful enterprise of the German empire.

The worst that can happen to the detriment of the German people is this—that if they should still, after the war is over, continue to be obliged to live under ambitious and intriguing masters interested to disturb the peace of the world, men or classes of men whom the other peoples of the world could not trust, it might be impossible to admit them to the partnership of nations which must henceforth guarantee the world's peace. That partnership must be a partnership of peoples, not a mere partnership of governments. It might be impossible also, in such untoward circumstances to admit Germany to the free economic intercourse which must inevitably spring out of the other partnerships of a real peace. But there would be no aggression in that, and such a situation, inevitable because of distrust, would in the very nature of things sooner or later cure itself by processes which were necessarily set in.

No Covenants of Selfishness.

The wrongs—the very deep wrongs committed in this war will have to be righted. That, of course. But they cannot and must not be righted by the commission of similar wrongs against Germany and her allies. The world will not permit the commission of similar wrongs as a means of reparation and settlement. Statesmen must by this time have learned that the opinion of the world is everywhere wide awake and fully comprehends the issues involved. No representative of any self-governed nation will dare disregard it by attempting any such covenant of selfishness and compromise as were entered into at the Congress of Vienna.

The thought of the plain people here and everywhere throughout the world, the people who enjoy no privileges and have very simple and unsophisticated standards of right and wrong, is the air all governments must henceforth breathe if they would live. It is in the full disclosing light of that thought that all policies must be conceived and executed in this midday hour of the world's life. German rulers have been able to upset the peace of the world only because the German people were not suffered under their tutelage to share the comradeship of the other peoples of the world either in thought or in purpose. They were allowed to have no opinion of their own which might be set up as a rule of conduct for those who exercised authority over them. But the congress that concludes this war will feel the full strength of the tides that run now in the hearts and consciences of free men everywhere. Its conclusions will run with those tides.

All those things have been true from the very beginning of this stupendous war, and I cannot help thinking that if they had been made plain at the very outset the sympathy and enthusiasm of the Russian people might have been once for all enlisted on the side of the allies, suspicion and distrust swept away and a real and lasting union of purpose effected. Had they believed these things at the very moment of their revolution and had they been convinced in that belief since, the sad reverses which have recently marked the progress of their affairs toward an ordered and stable government of free men might have been avoided. The Russian people have been poisoned by the very same falsehoods that have kept the German people in the dark, and the poison has been administered by the very same hands. The only possible antidote is the truth. It cannot be uttered too plainly or too often.

Declarations of Our Purpose.

From every point of view, therefore, it has seemed to be my duty to speak these declarations of purpose, to add these specific interpretations to what I took the liberty of saying to the senate in January. Our entrance into the war has not altered our attitude toward the settlement that must come when it is over.

When I said in January that the nations of the world were entitled not only to free pathways upon the sea, but also to assured and unmolested access to those pathways, I was thinking, and I am thinking, not of the smaller and weaker nations alone which need our countenance and support, but also of the great and powerful nations and of our present enemies as well as our present associates in the war. I was thinking, and am thinking now, of Austria herself, among the rest, as well as of Serbia and of Poland. Justice and equality of rights can be had only at a great price. We seek permanent, not temporary, foundations for the peace of the world and must seek them candidly and fearlessly. As always, the right will prove to be the expedient.

What shall we do then to put a stop to this great war of freedom and justice to its righteous conclusion? We must clear away with thorough hand all impediments to success, and we must make every adjustment of law that will facilitate the full and free use of our whole capacity and force as a fighting unit.

One very embarrassing obstacle that stands in our way is that we are at war with Germany, but not with her allies. I therefore very earnestly recommend that the Congress immediately declare the United States in a state of war with Austria-Hungary.

Does it seem strange to you that this should be the conclusion of the argument I have just addressed to you? It is not. It is, in fact, the inevitable logic of what I have said. Austria-Hungary is for the time being not her own mistress, but simply the vassal of the German government. We must face the facts as they are and act upon them without sentiment in this stern business. The government of Austria-Hungary is not acting upon its own initiative or in response to the wishes and feelings of its own peoples, but as the instrument of an other nation. We must meet its force with our own and regard the Central powers as but one.

The war can be successfully conducted in no other way. The same logic would lead also to a declaration of war against Turkey and Bulgaria. They also are the tools of Germany. But they are mere tools and do not yet stand in the direct path of our necessary action. We shall go wherever the necessities of this war carry us, but it seems to me that we should go only where immediate and practical considerations lead us and not heed any others.

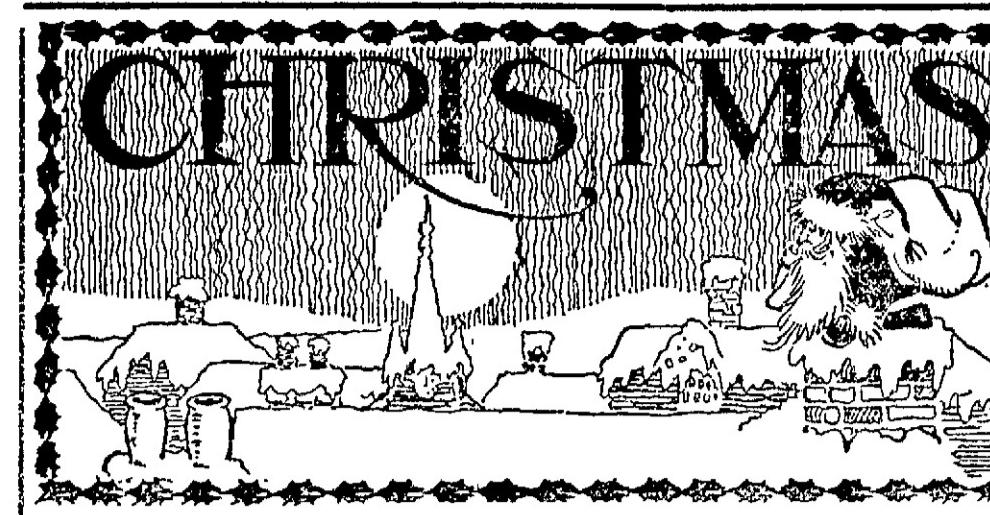

The financial and military measures which must be adopted will suggest themselves as the war and its undertakings develop, but I will take the liberty of proposing to you certain other acts of legislation which seem to me to be needed for the support of the war and for the release of our whole force and energy.

Alien Enemy Legislation.

It will be necessary to extend in certain particulars the legislation of the last session with regard to alien enemies, and also necessary, I believe, to create a very definite and particular control over the entrance and departure of all persons into and from the United States.

Legislation should be enacted defining as criminal offense every willful violation of the Presidential proclamations relating to alien enemies promulgated under Section 4067 of the Revised Statute and providing appropriate punishments; and women as well as men should be included under

First Hospital Train Built by W. M. First of the first and most complete hospital trains to be put into the service of the United States Government is being equipped in the shops of the Western Maryland Railroad in Hagerstown. It will be a modern hospital on wheels.

The final work is being done on the ambulance car, which, when finished, will complete the train. The electric generator equipment of the ambulance car will furnish light for the entire train, which will consist of the ambulance car, with an operating room for physicians and nurses, a combination car with an operating room and bunks, and two passenger coaches containing wards.

As soon as the train is ready it will be sent to Baltimore and take on two or three ambulances that have been donated by residents of that city. The complete train will be turned over to the government at no expense to the owner. Major railroads, it is understood, have been asked by the Government to provide drivers.

SAYS A GLASS OF HOT WATER
EVERY MORNING BEFORE
BREAKFAST WILL TAKE
OFF FAT IF YOU GET
MORE FRESH AIR

Be Moderate in Your Diet and Reduce Your Weight with Tassco.

Lack of fresh air weakens the oxygen-carrying power of the blood; the liver becomes sluggish, fat accumulates and the action of many of the vital organs are hindered thereby. The heart action becomes weak, work is an effort and the beauty of the figure is destroyed.

Fat put on by indoor life is unhealthy and if nature is not assisted in throwing it off by increasing the oxygen-carrying power of the blood, a serious case of obesity may result.

When you feel that you are getting too stout, take the matter in hand at once. Don't wait until your figure has become a joke and your health ruined through carrying around a burden of unsightly and unhealthy fat.

Spent as much time as you possibly can in the open air; breathe deeply, get from the People's Drug Store a box of Tassco, take a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast and then take tassco after each meal and at bedtime.

Weigh yourself every few days and keep up the treatment until you are back to normal. Tassco is absolutely harmless, is pleasant to take, helps the digestion and is designed to increase the oxygen-carrying power of the blood.

Even a few days' treatment should show a noticeable reduction in weight. There is nothing better for obesity.

CLOSER KINSHIP IS THE NEW IDEAL IN AMERICAN INDUSTRY

Harmony Between Men and Management Recognized as a Desirable Factory Asset.

IS NOW AN INVENTORY ITEM

Modern Manufacturer Cultivates Good Will of Workers—His Interest No Longer Confined to Conversion of Raw Material Into Finished Product

No established business can operate efficiently without inventory. The inventory tells the story of whether the business is successful or otherwise.

You put almost everything you have in an inventory, and the value that you think the article bears in relation to your business.

But there are many things which go into the composite body of inventory beside personal property. There is the question of good will. There is the item of the contentment of employees. There is the question of the relation of employer to employee. There is the item of the health hygiene of artisans. And there is the final item, which is always eloquent, of whether or not the men who work are better citizens in the community in which they live.

The time has come and gone when manufacturers are exclusively interested in converting raw into finished product. The time has come when all employers must be interested in the quality of manhood of the men who work.

Industrial conservation means the preservation and protection of the lives, liberties and rights of men in industry as much as it does the protection of the economic agencies of manufacture. It spells industrial integrity. The age of ruthless competition is relegated to the past.

The interests of employees and employers are not necessarily identical, but they are mutual. If the humblest employed in any industry is not interested in the success of the concern for which he works he should be eliminated. If the executive of any large industrial concern is not interested in the humblest toiler the executive should be eliminated.

The Meaning of Co-operation.

The new idea in industry is a closer kinship and deeper appreciation of the necessity for mutuality and co-operation. Co-operation means not merely the physical co-ordination of industry; it means the spirit with which the labor is performed. Co-operation is not a question of wage or hours of labor; it is an agency for the betterment of employees, stockholders and officers. If an industrial concern cannot manufacture good will, it ought to go out of business.

Industrial conservation means mobilizing industrial forces, both internally and externally. It means protection, not in the tariff sense of that word, but in the sense of establishing an industrial Rock of Gibraltar against the international trade conditions which will follow on the termination of the European war. The vast economic changes to follow the European conflagration cannot be worked out by a group of men. The test of democracy depends upon the contribution of everybody interested in the maintenance of democracy, independent of political, sectional or racial considerations.

Just as sometimes industrial plants are reorganized, so now American industry is undergoing a process of reorganization. It is no longer an age of the brutality of competition, but of skill in bringing about co-operation. Business now means making better men and better conditions for labor, more highly specialized vocational training, and a non-provincial outlook and realization that the eventual greatness of American industry cannot be measured in terms of dollars and cents, but in terms of the manhood of the men who constitute the fiber woven in our scheme of democracy.

Welfare of Worker Considered.

Measures designed to reduce the cost of accidents in industry, the highest degree of safety apparatus for workmen, the study of fatigue and its consequences on the operative, the development of the individual efficiency of workmen, the problem of sickness insurance, either through voluntary or involuntary plans; the study of the economic factors involved in a shorter working day, the standardization of cost systems—these and dozens of other problems are all part and parcel of industry today—Industrial Conservation, New York.

LET YOUR ENTHUSIASM HELP YOU WITH YOUR WORK.

Increase Your Personal Power by Putting Your Soul Into Your Job.

Enthusiasm is the dynamics of your personality. Without it, whatever abilities you may possess lie dormant, and it is safe to say that nearly every man has more latent power than he has ever learned to use. You may have knowledge, sound judgment, good reasoning facilities, but no one—not even yourself—will know it until you discover how to put your heart into thought and action.—Industrial Conservation, New York.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.
